Well, that is not a bug in subtle, but of stupid toolkits that expect a reparenting window manager, when no specs say that reparenting is required. See here for more information: http://subforge.org/ezfaq/show/subtle?faq\_id=28

Check the FAQ for the solution to your Java problem: http://subforge.org/ezfaq/show/subtle?faq\_id=14

Qt is just broken, cannot find the ticket anymore but that is well-known problem.
